

Supervision Services

Supervision Services is an important means for Anton to provide reasonable and effective control over the progress, quality and cost of engineering construction projects. Customers are provided with quality services through professional technical management capabilities in order to maximize the benefits of the customers. Anton has professional personnel who provide supervision services in oilfield operation, ensuring the successful completion of E&D operations of customers according to quality and schedule requirements.

Scope of Services

- Seismic data acquisition supervision services.
- Geological supervision services.
- Drilling supervision services.
- Well testing and production supervision services.
- Completion & workover supervision services.
- Surface engineering supervision services.
- Document control and other personnel services.

Service Capability and Advantages

- The ability to supervise all major engineering operations such as drilling, completion, oil production and surface engineering operations.
- Perfect supervision management system and process.
- Rich reserve of supervisory talents, and the international human service company established in Dubai, which provides specialized talents around the world.
- Professional team of experts supporting on-site supervision and offering remote and on-site problem solutions for customers.
- Supervision training system guaranteeing the best services for customers.
- Self-developed SPMS supervisor dynamic management software improving the efficiency of supervision and management.
- Flexible mechanism, quick response and good adaptability to the harsh environment.

Service Tracking Records

- In Chad, Iraq, Albania, Kazakhstan and other countries, Anton provides supervision services for clients, including drilling, geology, completion, workover, HSE, CPF, ESP, etc., which are highly praised by the owners.